1. Put a light in every country window,
 High speed pumps where now the windmills stand,
 Get in and lay the cable so that one day we'll be able To have electricity all over this wide land.

Verses 1-4 sung as a chorus between the other verses.

2. Miners tunnel to feed the fires at Wangi,
 Others scrape the brown coal at Yallourn,
 Turbine blades are yielding to the tumbling tons of Eildon,
 And the Snowy will be finished before long.

3. The little farms and giant outback stations,
 They all are mechanised today,
 For milking cows and shearing sheep, to do it fast and do it cheap
 Electrically is the modern way.

4. The old Coolgardie and the red-hot woodstove,
 They all have seen their days at last,
 For now the ice and fire that is coming on the wire
 Has made them relics of the past.

Words and tune by Don Henderson, Melbourne.
